Angell Hall, Auditorium C

On November 1, 2025, the Grand Egyptian Museum (GEM) will hold a gala opening attended by queens, kings, and presidents from around the world. The long-awaited GEM will showcase the splendors of Egypt's deep history, including the complete collection from the tomb of King Tutankhamun, in a $1 billion state-of-the-art facility. If you can't be there in person, please join us for an exclusive livestream of the festivities, including tours of the museum's as-yet unseen galleries. Be among the first people in the world to experience the splendors of the GEM at the region's only official livestream event.

This event is free and open to the public. Space is limited, so please register here to reserve your seat: myumi.ch/y1j5y.

Sponsored by the University of Michigan's Kelsey Museum of Archaeology, Department of Middle East Studies, Museum of Anthropological Archaeology, Museum Studies Program, Center for Middle Eastern and North African Studies, and North African Students Association.
